Sent: Monday, October 05, 2015 8:38 AMTo: FBI.PREPUBCc: [REDACTED] (FBI)

In late June of 2016, the ODTUG Conference, a technical conference regarding Oracle Developer Tools – will be taking place. I've been fortunate enough to attend the past 2 years and have been participating in the community more. As a result of this, I have both sharpened my skills for the office as well as made contacts with people who can often provide keen insights and shortcuts for solving technical issues.

As a technical person who has the ability to present fairly well, I am interested in attending this year as a presenter. The discussion I would lead (outlined below) would be of a technical nature and would not focus on any FBI-specific techniques. It would be clear that I am speaking to people as a fellow technician, not as a representative of any organization, let alone the FBI or US government in particular.

I apologize for the need for speed, as the deadline for abstract submissions is approaching (mid-October). I appreciate the consideration and hope to hear from you shortly. If you have any questions or comments, I look forward to them. Assuming I am accepted, I expect to develop my slides early in 2016 and I would be happy to share the presentation (both slides and/or planned oral) at that time.

Thank you –
Norman Barth

TRANSITORY RECORD

Hi [REDACTED]

b6 -2

I uploaded the book manuscript to you via Dropbox. It should be in your inbox as we speak—or as I type. It's about 300 pages long, Down from the 474 pages in the dissertation that was previously reviewed and approved for release back in 2006. Only substantially new material is the last chapter—Chapter 5 "Lessons and Legacy" which mentions Amerithrax. The book also includes some new material from FBI FOIA requests. A word search on FBI and or FOIA or redacted should identify all those passages. Otherwise, the manuscript is largely the same as the previous reviewed/approved dissertation. Large sections of the dissertation were deleted and do not appear in the manuscript.

Best,
Glenn

TRANSITORY RECORD

To speed up review, would it be possible to highlight the new material in the book? There is no need to review the portions already approved.

Since it is 24mb, from past experience I know that is too big to send through e-mail. The best bet to get it to me would be through Bumail, at the address below.

Would this be possible?

Hi [REDACTED]

b6 -2

Don't know if you're still doing prepublication review, but I have a book that I am about ready to sent to my publisher. Topic is on the Rhodesian use of chemical and biological weapons. It was the subject of my PhD dissertation and was reviewed by prepublication review then (2006). This version is a re-write of the 2007 dissertation with some new material added. How can I best get it to prepublication review for approval. It's a large file (24MB).

Best,
Glenn

Glenn,

Since the conference was part of your official duties, no prepublication review is required, however, I can't speak for whatever review OPA may need.

Hi All,

Got a quick question. I attended a seminar in London in September, where as a discussant I made some unofficial comments on a presentation. The seminar organizers now would like to publish their abstract of my comments on the seminar website. They've asked me to review what they would like to publish (see attached). Their abstract seems innocuous, but I want to run it past you both. I want to be safe rather than sorry. The organizers will be happy with what changes we may want to make. Need to know if this has to go through a formal prepublication review—that would be fine. The abstract is only two pages long.

Cheers,
Glenn

TRANSITORY RECORD

Good Morning [REDACTED]

b6 -2

My name is Aaron Barabasz and I am [REDACTED] The reason for my e-mail is that I was invited by my alma mater to participate in a panel discussion on how the participants time at the university helped prepare us for our current careers and what the hiring process was like, and it was recommended that I speak to you about it. The event is October 20th in Connecticut. So far I've received my UC's permission, cleared it with my CSO, spoke with the New Haven Division, and spoke with an attorney in the Office of Integrity and Compliance's Ethics Team who recommended that I speak to you as well. Is there any additional permission, advice, or guidance I need or that you can offer? Thanks!

Can I get some guidance on whether or not I need authorization from the BU to submit my dissertation for publication in the International Journal of Police Science and Management? I have attached the article I wrote and a description of the authors.

Thanks,

An article you vetted a few months back has been picked up for publication. I had to make a couple of minor formatting, typographical, and word-choice edits. (e.g. "pages" became "documents"; etc.) I did not add any new substance.

I know you've said in the past that such revisions don't need to go through review again but I am submitting the finalized version with tracked changes, as a professional courtesy. I know you keep OPA et al in the loop on items that you have approved and I want to make sure that all parties have access to the latest iteration should they need it.

Thanks for the email. In these situations, we approve these requests and send out a letter listing the areas to avoid discussing when speaking in public.

What is a good mailing address for us to send the letter to? We are required to mail a hard copy.

Thanks

My name is [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I am attending [REDACTED] the weekend of November 6-7. [REDACTED] asked me to moderate a panel about the death penalty. [REDACTED] so I would not be participating based on my FBI employment. Moreover, my job would be to introduced the panelists, field questions from the audience, and keep the conversation flowing. They expect an "audience" of approximately 25 [REDACTED] alumnae to attend the

1. Has [redacted] reviewed their equities?

and also

What is a good mailing address as we are required to mail a hard copy letter upon completion of review?

We ask for 30 working days for reviews but we are usually really quick with resumes.

TRANSITORY RECORD

Hello [redacted]

b6 -2

Was this sent to anyone else for review? Perhaps OGC or the LA field office?

I checked back in with the substantive unit here and with their heavy workload, they were not able to take a real deep dive into this document.

Hopefully someone else reviewed as well? Please let me know.

Thanks,

TRANSITORY RECORD

Hi Everyone,

RMD is requesting help with Prepublication Review.

We received a book from retired Agent Tom Trier, who worked a case on the Nazi Low Rider gang in the late 1990's/Early 2000's. This was a California/Texas based gang.

While the majority of the book is generic law enforcement info, throughout the book the author mentions different experiences working the NLR case.

We request that the manuscript be reviewed for any information CID feels should not be released.

Since the NLR is not mentioned on every page, I've bracketed the NLR info and included just the pages where they are mentioned. If the entire manuscript is needed let me know and I can send that over also.

A response is requested by November 3, 2015 so we can keep up with internal deadlines.

Thank you all for your help.

Good afternoon,

Attached please find a foreword/introduction that I have written for a non-fiction book titled Workplace Violence: Issues in Threat Management. I am requesting a review for approval to submit to the editors. I am not a co-author or editor of the book and am not receiving any compensation for writing the introduction.

I do not anticipate any substantive changes to this short manuscript (seven pages, double-spaced) unless directed.

Please let me know if you need any additional information. Thanks very much –

Respectfully,
Andre

To Whom It May Concern:

I spoke yesterday with [REDACTED] about submitting my paper. I am currently [REDACTED] and wrote the attached paper while in law school. I am currently enrolled and this paper will be published shortly. I have highlighted where the FBI is mentioned using the comment function in Microsoft Word. b6 -1, 2

I wrote the entirety of the paper before I began [REDACTED] I am also a former employee but my work at that time did not concern the topic I wrote about.

I know that you have set guidelines for the timing in which you may return a favorable/unfavorable decision on this paper. However, the journal I am having it published by was planning on sending it to the printer during the week following the Thanksgiving holiday. I know that is a quick turnaround time, but I would be greatly appreciative of any help you might be able to provide in meeting that deadline.

As per [REDACTED] request please send the letter to the following address [REDACTED]:

If at all possible could you also email me letting me know the outcome of your review to expedite the process. Thank you in advance for your assistance. Please let me know if I may be able to provide any further information.

Robin,

Great to hear from you my friend!

I had a great holiday. I hope you and the family did as well.

I got the four chapters. I'll be taking a look at those shortly.

Our usual 30 working day timeframe applies.

Thanks for submitting this now, as it will give me something fun to read, during the usual slow time leading that.

[REDACTED] pass along their best to you as well. I'm meeting with Mr. Hardy later today,b6 -2

Hey, [redacted]

b6 -1, 2

Hope this finds you well! Attached is Only the Vengeance, sequel to Only the Blondes, which, as I remember, [redacted] personally read and vetted before [redacted].

This is a straight mystery, with no nexus to intel. I have tried to keep FBI references and procedures purely common knowledge/open source "like you'd see on TV" stuff.

Please give my regards to [redacted] and tell them I retired 10/17/2015 to write full-time (and fish part-time).

TRANSITORY RECORD

b6 -2

I am sending a screenplay to your office called PLASTIC INDIAN. I was not one of the original writers, but I was responsible for the revision. There were significant rewrites on my part, so in an abundance of caution, I am forwarding to you all. I anticipate additional minor edits from the draft I am sending you for review, but nothing of major significance. Thanks in advance for the review...

In reference to a previous submission, RELENTLESS, I will be sending that back again in the next few months as I am in the process of a rewrite.

We are requesting you, or your unit's assistance on a review. Former Employee Efren Delgado has written a book chapter on hate crimes. (37 pages.)

Some of the information mentioned is specific to LA-based cases and therefore we wanted to give you all a chance to review for any material you feel should not be released. Please note that we can't object to material in the public domain.

Since this is your unit's area of expertise, we would appreciate your input for any information you may object to.

It would be appreciated if you could complete review by January 6, 2016.

Thanks for your help and Happy Holidays

Per the email chain below, I've been asked to participate, in my personal capacity, as a panelist in an upcoming women's luncheon being sponsored by my college. The topic for the event is women working in government. I've spoken to [REDACTED] in OIC and covered the bases with that office and she also recommended I reach out to you for anything I need to address from the RMD side.

From my original email below, in talking with the organizer, my understanding is they are interested in having panelists discuss what it is like to be a woman working in government, what the culture is like, what the expectations are, what it is like to balance work and family, and what the outlook is. The overall aim is to also understand how I and the other panelists made decisions and progressed in our careers, who (generally speaking) we looked to as mentors, etc. There are two other panelists (a DOJ immigration judge and the IG for USAID) confirmed for this event.

The format anticipated is for the moderator (a [REDACTED] professor) to ask about 3-5 questions (which we will be provided in advance) and time permitting, to potentially field some questions from the attendees.

Please let me know what is needed from me to proceed.

Many thanks!

b6 -2

You've hit the nail on the head- this is obviously not your first rodeo! ☺ This should be a personal capacity speech because there's really not an articulable benefit to the FBI. (Since you will be participating in your personal capacity, you can accept an honorarium if it's offered.) Your disclaimer statements are appropriate to make.

Speaking at this event, subject to the guidance set forth below, is legally permissible.

- Gov't Time and Resources: No outside activities, such as preparing for personal capacity speaking engagements, may be conducted in the workplace or using Government property, time, or resources.
- Use of FBI Title/Position in Speech: Per the applicable regulations, an employee who is engaged in teaching, speaking, or writing as an outside activity must not use or permit the use of their official title or position to identify herself in connection with her teaching, speaking, or writing activity or to promote any event program or similar undertaking, except that the employee may include her title and position as one of several biographical details. Your title and position may not, however, be given more prominence than other significant biographical details. This means that your talk should include information about your background, education, prior government employment, and your current employment, rather than only focusing on your FBI employment. You may speak generally about being a government employee.
- The School's Use of Your Title or FBI Affiliation: Along the same lines, the college cannot promote or advertise your talk stating that the FBI or an FBI employee will be present. Allowing them to do so would constitute a misuse of position on your part- a violation of the Standards of Conduct.
- Speaking about the FBI: Employees should not speak about any non-public information they learned from their FBI duties (e.g., no discussion of non-public, LE sensitive, classified or Privacy Act protected information). Employees must contact RMD's Pre-Publication office when planning to speak, teach, or write about anything related to the FBI. I recommend you contact  to ensure you are in compliance with the Pre-Publication policy.
- Accepting Gifts: Employees cannot accept gifts from prohibited sources or gifts given to us because of our official position. However, there are exceptions. If you are being offered food, beverages, or any other item because you were invited to participate due to your official position, then we have to determine whether an exception applies. One of the exceptions states that you can accept a gift no more than $20 per occasion and no more than $50 annually, from the same source. With that said, as long as the gift (e.g., food and beverages) provided at the event is valued at no more than $20, you can accept. If it is valued at more than $20, you may not accept it. (Arguably, in your case, you were invited both because you're an alum AND because of your official position.)
- Is Outside Activity Approval Required?: If you plan to speak at these events on a more frequent basis, you'll need to determine whether you are required to complete an FD-331. That will depend on how frequent your speaking occurs and whether you are compensated. However, if this is just a one-time thing, the FD-331 is not required.

Please let me know if you have any questions or you'd like to discuss this in more detail. Thanks for your question!

Thanks for your response. Per your questions:

- 1) No -- there is no offer of payment.
- 2) I think this falls into the category of personal capacity, but I'm not confident I fully am clear on the distinction. I will be introduced as an FBI employee and since the topic is women in government, I will be drawing on my experiences as a woman working in government, specifically at FBI. However, I will not be speaking on substantive issues related to my specific position. Also, as I have in other situations, I will clearly state that the views I express are my own personal opinions, and not any official position of the FBI, nor am I speaking on behalf of the FBI.

Please let me know if you need any more clarification. Many thanks for your assistance moving forward!

Hi [REDACTED]

b6 -2

I have not -- I do not know of a [REDACTED] review POC. However, I recently sent a copy of my resume (without FBI details) to my former office at [REDACTED] for a recommendation letter, so they are aware of the information. I am also fairly confident that the information from [REDACTED] is unclassified. My main concern was with the FBI details.

Please advise if further action is necessary. Thank you.

Yes, the citation is the actual legal document from Santa Clara Superior Court—a civil case. Consequently, it would not be from any FBI documentation. I did not use any FBI material, content, resources.

Question on this paper. In section III, the Case Study, when speaking of the case, I just want to make sure that all case info comes from publically available documents. Is this correct? I assume it all comes from footnote 12? Can you confirm this?

Deborah,

Sorry for the delayed reply. We got about 3 feet of snow over the weekend and we are just getting back in the office.

I'm pretty sure I can just e-mail you what's in our standard letter but I want to check with my boss to be sure. I'll of course send you a hard copy too. I'll try to get an e-mail to you today or tomorrow.

FBI Prepublication Review Officer,

I am [REDACTED]
and I was recently asked to collaborate with several others on the attached article. The article addresses a new first aid hemorrhage control program developed following an Active Shooter tabletop exercise I facilitated in Feb 2014.

b6 -2

The article is intended to be submitted for the March issue of EMS World magazine. Please review and consider approving it for publication so I may be listed as a co-author. I believe this highlights a success of our Active Shooter program and I would like the FBI to be credited for its contributions to this program.

Thank you!

Thanks - and no worries, you're reply wasn't delayed.

I'm attaching the story to this reply - it is fiction. The story is not drawn from any case I've worked;
it's definitely informed by my experiences but it doesn't have anything in it that wouldn't be publicly available or commons sense, from an FBI standpoint.

30 working days for the review is just fine, and I'll be happy to make any changes that are necessary.

Sorry for my delayed reply. The best way for us to receive the manuscript, would be to just reply to this email and attach it.

We do ask for 30 working days for reviews, which may be extended due to lengthy or complex cases. Is this story fiction?

Upon completion of review, we will mail a letter of approval or suggesting changes if any need to be made.

If you have any further questions, do not hesitate to respond.

Thanks

[REDACTED]

You won't remember, but a couple years back I reached out to you to discuss the pre-publication process. Between your help and our Assistant Division Counsel, I was able to figure things out regarding the writing I do in my free time. I've cc'd my ADC, as he is fully aware of my writing and attempts to get a story published.

I am at the point where I think I may soon have a story under consideration for publication. Of the writing I've done, only one mentions or features FBI personnel or work. I'd like to send that to the right person for an official pre-publication review. It shouldn't require too much effort, as it is a short story is only about 7,500 words. But I've not been able to ascertain the appropriate method/format for the process. Can you let me know if there is a form or something I need to fill out and to whom who I should send the story.

Thank you so much for your help.

 I have completed the first draft of the sixth Cliff Knowles novel, which I am submitting for review. I am considering a title change and there will be an acknowledgment page at the end, but the only other anticipated changes would be minor editorial fixes such as correcting typos and similar errors. The characters and plot are entirely fictitious.

Hello,

I currently work as [redacted] and have a question for which I cannot find an answer on the RMD pages about pre-publication review: Is there a process for reviewing a resume that may describe some of an employee or contractor's work while at FBI?

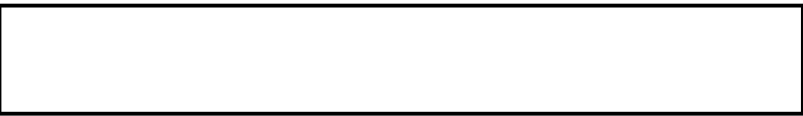

b6 -2

Several years ago I worked at a different federal government organization that required that all resume bullet points relating to work be drafted at work and undergo the formal pre-publication review process before they could be added to one's CV. Does FBI have a similar requirement, and, if so, can you provide me a contact who might be able to guide me in this process? I am presently considering applying to graduate school and would like to make sure I follow the policy properly before updating my resume.

Thank you.

In my current role, I've been asked for an interview regarding Cyber Crimes, how they are pursued, etc. It is my intention to answer the questions with information that is pretty much already in the public domain, such as tracking criminals via IP addresses, by the signature and methodology of the attacks, etc. While I am privy to classified information as a consequence of my employment at the FBI, I understand that I cannot disclose such information. Thanks for the help. This speeds up our review a lot.

We'll get this review done quickly for you, and send a letter upon completion of review.

To answer your questions, you are only required to submit things for review if they mention the FBI, or contain FBI information.

Also, since you are a contractor, OIC approval is not required. I was wrong about that yesterday. That's only for Bureau employees.

Sure, [REDACTED] I pasted the sections that mention the FBI below.

Can you please explain the policy on when I need to submit writing for prepublication review? Since I am writing mostly about health issues, is that something I am legally required to submit for review every time or is it only if I mention the FBI?

Also, when is it necessary to contact OIC?

I hope all is well. I'm attaching a draft copy of a book entry I was recently asked to provide on the RICO Act. It is designed to be written for an undergraduate audience. I didn't use any FBI material, but still wanted to get it to you asap since it will be published in an academic book by ABC-CLIO.

Please review and advise whether I have permission to submit for publication at your earliest.

In the meantime, I'm going to begin self-editing of the material, but I don't anticipate any new material being added.

Send it in since we're referenced just to be safe. If you could include a work cited or endnote for the FBI information that would be great.

You can e-mail it to me at this address and I can review it that way.

Please include a mailing address as we are required to mail a hard copy letter once our review is complete.

I have been in contact with you a couple of times regarding an online seminar I have been invited to give in May for the American Chemical Society. Per discussion with [redacted] of OIEC, this can be done but only in a personal capacity, meaning that it needs to be reviewed by your office. Per discussion with [redacted] since it is a personal capacity presentation which does not mention the FBI or specific [redacted] policies or practices, review through the [redacted] publication and presentation review policy is not required. I have attached the draft PowerPoint presentation for your review and commentary.

Does this require an associated EC? If so, can you provide a "pony" for reference?

Please let me know if there is any additional information you need for your review. I will be out of the office next week, but will have low-side e-mail access through my BuPhone [redacted] And thank you for all your help and patience! b6 -2

Cheers,
Jason

I am [REDACTED] I have an old friend and colleague [REDACTED] who teaches a [REDACTED] class at Boston University, Boston, MA. Some years ago, I wrote an article that on forensics that appeared in The Joint Force Quarterly, the magazine of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The article is titled: Fingerprints and the Global War on Terror. That article has been the foundation of several presentations I gave to law enforcement groups while I was assigned to [REDACTED]. Those presentations were also vetted and approved. [REDACTED] routinely assigns the article as required reading for his [REDACTED] students. I have been asked to speak to his class about the article. This has been approved by my chain of command and Chief Division Counsel, who asked me to also contact you. The article is available on line, and I note that it does not contain anything sensitive, classified or anything regarding sources and methods. Note also that I always advise that I am speaking on my own, not on FBI policy or positions. There are about 30 people in the class, and I have requested no press or recordings.

The article can be easily retrieved on line for your review. I would suggest googling my name, the magazine name and article title to pull it up.

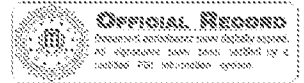

Let me know if you need anything else from me.

I see from [REDACTED] Lync status that he's no longer doing pre-publication review.

b6 -2

I've attached my current draft of an article on intelligence/ethics. As I've indicated, the FBI-focused material is the last page and a half, and the endnotes indicate from where I derived the material (2008/2011 declassified DIOG and AG Guidelines).

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Best,

Brian

Please see attached. We've talked in the past regarding prepub and this is an article on intelligence and ethics. The last page and a half involve unclassified material from the DIOG, as well as the Attorney General's Guidelines. Please advise if OK for publication.

Thanks as always,

Brian

Hope all is well in beautiful Winchester, VA! I have another paper for you to review. Thanks and I always appreciate your help. Rob

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
935 Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington D.C., 20535-0001

April 9, 2016

To whom it May Concern;

My name Official Bureau Name is Douglas A. Hunt. I retired [REDACTED] [REDACTED] In the months prior to retiring, I was invited to speak at Tank Fest at the British Tank Museum. Tank Fest is an annual display of military artifacts, armor and tanks at the British Tank Museum in Bovington, United Kingdom, on June 24 and 25, 2016. The nature of the presentation was to be a very general public information session about how the FBI uses armor, to include body armor and armored vehicles. I was invited to give this presentation based not so much on my experience, but based on my relationship with [REDACTED] a member and supporter of the Tank Museum and a professor at [REDACTED]

b6 -1

Prior to retiring I passed this request to an Assistant Legal Attaché in London and received no objection. Similarly, prior to retiring, I advised my chain of command in [REDACTED] of this request and my intention to participate with no objection. It should be noted that I did not and nor will I be compensated for this presentation and planned on traveling to the UK at no cost to the FBI. I had planned a trip with my family during this period to the UK and Paris and have already purchased tickets at my own expense. I have no plan to accept any compensation for this presentation other than admission to the event.

b6 -1

I plan to present only general information about the FBI body armor and armored vehicles that is open to the public. All information presented would be obtained from public sources. I would emphasize that I am not currently in the FBI and have no official information on current use of procurement of FBI armor or armored vehicles. There is no plan, nor would there be any purpose in speaking about past FBI tactics or incidents. I will not use any FBI seals or documents in the presentation. The Tank Museum has published that a speaker from the FBI will be present during the Tank Fest and I think it would reflect poorly on me and the FBI to not participate.

PREPUB-8262

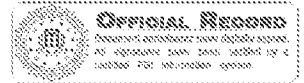

I am submitting this notification in this format pursuant to my understanding of my agreement to notify the FBI of speaking engagements via letter only. This instruction was provided to me at my out-processing from [REDACTED]

b6 -1

If you have any questions, please contact me in writing at Doug Hunt, [REDACTED]

Very respectfully,

Doug Hunt

[redacted] of the Knoxville Bar Association, asked me to write an article for their monthly magazine about Human Trafficking. I met with [redacted] about a month ago to discuss HT and see if she could help me identify local attorneys who would be willing to represent HT victims. I gave her my Human Trafficking Fact Sheet, which I routinely distribute to the public and I referenced material in my general HT power point.

She asked if I would compile this information into a piece for her monthly magazine to bring more awareness to the issue. I told her I would check with both of you. I took the initiative to draft something for her which you can read below. Again, this information has been released to public audiences in the past as part of my outreach, training, and interviews with [redacted] and the media.

Can you let me know what you think?

Thanks in advance.

NOTES FOR PRE-PUBLICATION REVIEW

☐ Please reference our email exchange in December 2015.

b6 -2

In my most recent book the FBI is only mentioned two or three times, and all such references come from public sources. However, in an effort to make your job as easy as possible I have created this list of any references of anything that might relate to an FBI matter and provided the public source article from which the information was obtained. I have prepared this list to show none of the book's information has been obtained from FBI materials.

Thank you for all help and if you have any questions please do not hesitate to call.

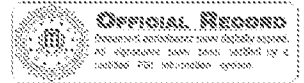

Sincerely, John L.

I've been working on a two-part blog post for [REDACTED] public website about threat intelligence services. I don't mention FBI in it, but since it is based on knowledge I've acquired during my time with FBI, it has to go through the prepublication review process.

[REDACTED] from RMD asked me to have [REDACTED] look over the blog posts to ensure they do not contain sensitive FBI information and are appropriate for public release (from [REDACTED] perspective). If you could take a few minutes to review them, I'd really appreciate it. If you're comfortable with the content, [REDACTED] just needs an email sent to him saying the posts do not contain sensitive FBI information and are appropriate for public release from your perspective.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks!

Katie

I am sending a screenplay to your office called PLASTIC INDIAN. I was not one of the original writers, but I was responsible for the revision. There were significant rewrites on my part, so in an abundance of caution, I am forwarding to you all. I anticipate additional minor edits from the draft I am sending you for review, but nothing of major significance. Thanks in advance for the review...

Reference our telephone conversation on 5/23/2016 regarding the UNABOM Case.

I was contacted by a television production company that will be making an eight-part scripted mini-series regarding the UNABOM case. Its scheduled to begin airing in July of 2017 and they want to tell the real story behind the FBI's solving of the UNABOM case and wants to keep it as authentic as possible. This would include anything they could learn about the improvised Explosive devices (IEDs). This will be the type of questions the production company will likely be asking me about. I would also assume they would like to know how the FBI Laboratory worked this type of a serial bombing case. I retired from the FBI on [REDACTED] as a [REDACTED] and I'm currently [REDACTED] I was [REDACTED] for the UNABOM case from 1993 until the conclusion.

I contacted the Office of Ethics and Compliance, Unit Chief [REDACTED] and was advised see didn't see any ethic issues. I also advised the [REDACTED] office of General Counsel, Unit Chief [REDACTED] and was advised I just needed to advise my current company [REDACTED] is currently on deployment and is on this email.

b6 -2

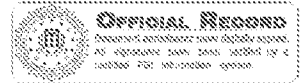

Attached is an article regarding Ted Kaczynski and the UNABOM investigation, including information and photographs of the type of IEDs utilized. Most of the information available regarding this case is public information.

All communications have been simply by e-mail, however, they wanted to speak with me and I advised I would need concurrence from the FBI before that could happen.

Thanks for your assistance.

I understand that the presentation is designed to stress to the public the importance of reporting crimes against children and to help them to identify when such crimes may be occurring. I work in pre-publishing where I review different articles, manuscripts, and resumes written by former and current FBI employees to be published. On this particular manuscript, [redacted] wrote a chapter on organized crime [redacted] and goes into detail about [redacted] [redacted] Is there someone at your office that can review the chapter and let me know if there are any concerns. I have highlighted paragraphs of concern.

Let me know what you think.

Hi [REDACTED]

b6 -1, 2

I hope you enjoyed your 4th of July holiday. I am anxious to receive your review and recommendations so that I will be able to proceed with the book. Since I have never written any book before, the best way for me to write it was to use real names for everyone except for [REDACTED] and a couple of my informants. I did do Internet research to get the correct spellings of the criminals whose investigations that I was involved and I think that except for the personal aspects I included, their names are in a public record. I have started to call some of the Agents that I have referred to - so far, I've spoken with Dennis Marchalonis, David Kelly, AUSA Scott Thompson, Detective Ronald Thornberg, and SSA Stephen Bucar. I know I have many to contact and it does take some time trying to track them down.

Any advice or suggestions based on your experience you might have is greatly appreciated. It is basically an autobiography.

For any liability issues, I wouldn't move forward until I contacted and had permission to use names of FBI personnel. If I cannot contact some of them, I will either use a false identity or refer to them in the third person. I am not interested in having anyone file a slander law suit against me - I'm too old for that!!!!

Thanks for your work - I hope you are enjoying it as well as giving it a critical eye!!!

Best,

[Redacted]

I am currently working on your manuscript. I know we discussed this in our telephone conversation, but I could not remember.

Did you receive approval from the SA's and other FBI persons mentioned in the manuscript?

Did you use the real names of the criminals in the investigations?

Sorry I just have to document it.

Dear Sir/Madam:

Attached please find an article which I would like to submit to the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners for publication in their bi-monthly magazine. Due to the rapid change in the accounting treatment of leases and the continued abuse of triple net leases, I believe that this article will be helpful to both government and private fraud investigators. As the new accounting rules are implemented, it is likely that the FBI and other law enforcement agencies will receive additional referrals when leases are added to balance sheets and debt covenants are breached. Thank you for any assistance and insight you can provide. Billy [redacted] Actually, OIC isn't the right office. We provide advice to former employees regarding their post-Government service employment restrictions but this is more of communication/information disclosure issue. All employees, as part of their employment agreement, agreed to let the FBI review any proposed disclosure ("publication") of information related to or acquired by virtue of their official duties to afford the FBI an opportunity to identify and request deletion of protected information such as classified material. That obligation continues even after an employee separates from the FBI. The Records Management Division performs such reviews. Section Chief Dave Hardy, whom I've copied, leads the section that does the actual review. However, if the proposed disclosure is solely oral, i.e., there's no writing involved, then there's nothing for RMD to review. You can contact RMD if you are unsure about the propriety of making a particular disclosure. Interviews and contact with the media is generally under the purview of the Office of Public Affairs, whose AD I've copied in case he wants to add anything. Thanks for checking. Please follow up with Dave to the extent warranted.

I have previously worked with [REDACTED] on pre-publication matters but was informed you now handle these matters. I was invited to contribute an entry entitled organized crime activities for a Sage Encyclopedia on Criminal Psychology, a volume edited by [REDACTED]. The entry is to be written as a general overview of the topic for an undergraduate audience.

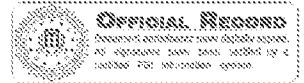

I have attached a draft of the entry for your review. Dr. Jim Finckenauer (my co-author) and I plan to further edit the piece but the content will not change substantially. I just wanted to make sure you had a draft copy as soon as possible so I can ensure I meet all necessary deadlines.

Let me know if there is anything else you need from me.

Not sure what happened on the last try. Perhaps I miswrote the email address.

I'm familiar with the process, as I've published before in similar topic areas.
I don't have a hard date from the publisher (Journal of Trauma), so the 30 business days is not an issue so far.

FYI the Bureau official familiar with areas of this topic who can advise on any questions regarding how this piece relates to Bureau policy is Section Chief Katherine Schweit of the Directors Office.
She is cc'd here.

Many thanks

Thank you so much!! I cannot tell you how much I appreciate your quick review. I plan to make changes to the 702 paper before I submit it for final publication. Should I send it to you again when it is final? I hope that I will receive a lot of feedback from the workshop. I may also get feedback from my supervisor and ODNI.

I have another paper that I hope to publish as well and is attached to this email. It's not nearly as long. It is basically in final form. There is no hurry on this one.

Thank you,

Please find attached a draft article for pre-publication review. I do not believe it contains any FBI information. All references are open source academic materials. Although one source does reference an FBI report and it is mentioned in the article, I did not have access to that report and did not review it for this article. Nonetheless, I am submitting my article for pre-publication review to ensure I have complied with FBI policy.

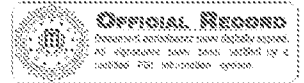

Upon clearance by your office, I intend to submit the article to an internal USG journal for publication.

Thank you for your assistance. I look forward to your prompt response.
